The Route

This tour of Falkirk's surroundings takes in some of the most iconic landmarks in the area. Starting at Callendar Park, you'll follow the John Muir Way past the impressive Callendar House before climbing through the huge trees of Callendar Wood to reach the Union Canal.

Peeling off the canal (and leaving the John Muir Way), make your way to Westquarter Glen and pause at its peaceful waterfall before passing Falkirk Stadium on your way to the Helix with its famous Kelpies.

After a tour of the giant sculptures and perhaps an indulgence in the café, you'll pick up the Forth & Clyde Canal as far as Rosebank Distillery.

A relaxed meander along Falkirk High St (and some well-earned refreshment in its selection of cafes and bistros) takes you back towards Callendar Park to complete the tour.

PLACES OF INTEREST

1. CALLENDAR HOUSE
   Dating from the 14th century and set in the historic Callendar Park, the house featured in the TV series Outlander. Visit the exhibitions, Georgian kitchen and tearoom.

2. WESTQUARTER GLEN
   A peaceful little haven of pathways that follow Westquarter Burn as it meanders over a picturesque waterfall on its way towards Grangemouth.

3. THE KELPIES
   Situated in the 300-hectare Helix park, these iconic 30m-high sculptures guard the entrance to the Forth & Clyde Canal at its eastern terminus. Go on a tour inside to learn their story.

4. ROSEBANK DISTILLERY
   After 25 years of inactivity, this 19th century whisky distillery, once a thriving hub of Falkirk life, is having new life breathed into it through an ambitious restoration.

5. FALKIRK TOWN CENTRE
   There’s more to Falkirk than the Kelpies and the Wheel! The town is steeped in history and boasts superb parks & gardens and a good selection of bistros & cafes.

THE INSIDE TRACK

While this walk is quite long, there are plenty of chances to rest and take in the sights on the way. Callendar House has regular exhibitions and the Kelpies are a great place to take a tour and relax in the café. There’s plenty to explore in Falkirk too, along with some great food and drink stops.
